

Establishment of an European Plant Genetic Resources Information Infra-Structure

Draft 11 September 2001

EURISCO Legal Notice and License Agreement

Responsibility

It is the sole responsibility of you, as the user of this site, to carefully examine the copyright, database right and licensing restriction and secure the necessary permissions to use this material.

General

- EURISCO is a European PGR Search Catalogue and provides common access to the information included in the National Database Inventories of Ex situ Plant Genetic Resources of European countries. These Inventories are implemented and maintained by individual European Countries as part of the Clearing House Mechanism (CHM) of the Convention on Biological Diversity (CBD).
- EURISCO has been established within the project 'Establishment of an European Plant Genetic Resources Information Infra-Structure (EPGRIS) which is/was funded by the European Union (EU).
- EURISCO is hosted and maintained by the International Plant Genetic Resources Institute (IPGRI) on behalf of the European Cooperative Programme for Crop Genetic Resources Networks (ECP/GR).
- EURISCO would not be possible without the financial contributions of the EU, IPGRI and ECP/GR, and the significant effort and valuable contributions of the National Inventories.
- IPGRI, the International Plant Genetic Resources Institute, is an autonomous international scientific organization, supported by the Consultative Group on International Agricultural Research (CGIAR). IPGRI's mandate is to advance the conservation and use of genetic diversity for the well-being of present and future generations. IPGRI's headquarters is based in Rome, Italy, with offices in another 19 countries worldwide. It operates through three programmes: (1) the Plant Genetic Resources Programme, (2) the CGIAR Genetic Resources Support Programme, and (3) the International Network for the Improvement of Banana and Plantain (INIBAP).

Termination of License

This License shall terminate immediately if you violate any of the terms of this Agreement. You may terminate at any time the license to use the Information from this site. Upon termination for any reason, you agree to delete or destroy all copies of the Information, which you have made, and to cease all uses of the information.

Assignability

The rights and licenses herein granted by Licensor with respect to any Information you obtain from this site between you, as the user and EURISCO/IPGRI. You may assign or otherwise transfer these rights to another person, subject to the provisions of this agreement and subject to such other person agreeing to be bound by the terms of this agreement. You shall not assign or otherwise transfer to another person any other rights or licenses granted to you under by this Agreement. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective heirs, personal representatives, successors and assigns.

Invalidity or Unenforceability

If any provision of this Agreement is deemed to be invalid or unenforceable in whole or in part, such provision, to the extent that it is invalid or unenforceable, shall be deemed struck from the Agreement and shall not affect the validity or enforceability of any other provision hereof. In addition, the parties agree that a court having jurisdiction may revise any provision determined to be invalid or unenforceable to the extent required to make it valid and enforceable consistent with the intention of the parties and, if a court will not do so, the parties agree to negotiate a provision having an effect as close as permitted by applicable law to the provision determined to be invalid or unenforceable and to incorporate such substitute provision in the Agreement.

Waiver

No delay in acting or failure to act shall constitute a waiver of any right of any party under this Agreement. Any waiver must be in writing and signed by the party entitled to the benefit of the right being waived. Unless otherwise stated in the waiver, any waiver applies only to the specific circumstance for which the waiver is given and not to any subsequent circumstance involving the same or any other right.

This is the end of the Legal Notice and License Agreement
